

London Palladium

London

Client: LW Theatres

Project Value: Â£42,000

Scope of Works

VIP Room - Harrison Suite

Winters Electrical assisted LW to convert an unused area within the London Palladium and turned it into an exclusive VIP room called the Harrison Suite. Named in honor of renowned producer Michael Harrison, the suite celebrates his remarkable contributions to the venue's success over the past decade. Winters Electrical worked closely with the LW management who were in direct contact with Madeleine and Andrew Lloyd Webber. Winters Electrical assisted in sourcing new, high end light fittings as well as restoring historical fixtures which have been brought back to life and displayed within this luxurious room. Winters Electrical was commissioned to blend industrial charm with modern functionality – showcasing galvanized conduit as a design feature, while seamlessly concealing contemporary systems like Wi-Fi, emergency lighting, fire alarms, and PAVA speakers.
